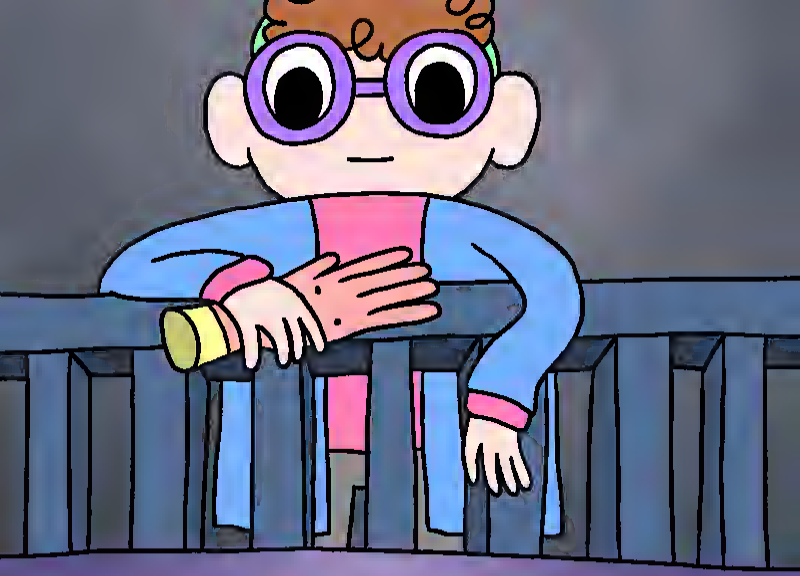
hello
bridge

I am scavenging for something to look at



amongst the grey skies
and green water.

I find some jewels.

The bridge allows me an interesting viewpoint

of all the things whizzing through the world and also the birds

quietly scavenging in the mud.

There are many of us
scavenging the landscape

me, the birds, this man with a metal detector

just as you are scavenging the internet, looking for a comic to read.
